

3 Reasons IT Consolidation is Critical

#1

Gain a Single Pane of Glass View

- Get instant insight into what is working and what's not in one portal
- Remotely access an endpoint, send application updates, pull inventory, run scripts, manage your antivirus and more without logging in and out of multiple systems
- Pull executive reports to gain a single pane of glass view into your overall endpoint health

#2

Integrate Your Systems

- Allow your systems to communicate without delays or headaches
- Create custom alerts from your endpoints to show antivirus threats and overall machine health in one system
- Save time setting up custom integrations between your antivirus provider, remote access provider, and patch management provider

#3

Reduce Vendor Friction

- Partner with one system to remove multiple contracts, multiple points of contact, and multiple payments method
- Reduce wasted time by streamlining administrative tasks

What our customers are saying:

“Beyond LogMeIn Antivirus working so well, the biggest selling point was that the antivirus was included in our subscription in addition to the ability to remotely operate computers, manage inventory, receive alerts, deploy packages and more.”
